Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific EU criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

Does this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

- Yes, [FARO Fashion, Luxury and Design] considers principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors since the beginning of the investment process where the investable universe excludes several sectors that contrast climate change mitigation and that produce negative effects on people and environment.

Furthermore, the due diligence process encompasses the analysis of sustainability risks and ESG performance of each target company. Among other factors, PAIs on climate and social issues (e.g. carbon footprint and diversity indicators) are evaluated to identify criticalities and room for improvement. Finally, the ongoing monitoring process on portfolio companies takes into account PAIs alongside the indicators used to measure the promotion of environmental and social characteristics ESG performance indicators.

- No

What investment strategy does this financial product follow?

The Sub-fund aims at building up a portfolio of investments by integrating ESG factors across all the investment process. Indeed, the investable universe is shaped accordingly to environmental and social criteria for which the following activities and behaviours are excluded:

- Production and distribution of tobacco and related products
- Production and distribution of controversial weapons having a disproportionate impact on civilian population such as chemical, biological, depleted uranium, and nuclear weapons, anti-personnel landmines and cluster bombs, other weapons and ammunition banned by international conventions
- Genetic engineering and human cloning for the solely reproduction purpose
- Casino, gambling, and betting services
- Animal testing for non-clinical purposes
- Adult entertainment
- Research and development of solutions aimed at to support the above activities
- Illegal or unethical business practices, including money-laundering, corruption and bribery
- Activities entailing violation of human and labour rights

The next step consists of integrating an ESG assessment into the due diligence process to consider PAIs, good governance practices, and the potential contribution of target companies to the environmental and social characteristics promoted by the Sub-fund. This is instrumental to identify both (i) criticalities that may lead to reject the investment project, and (ii) potential opportunities to enhance the ESG performance of the companies through the definition of an ESG Improvement Plan. In addition, an ESG risk score is assigned to each investment to support the Sub-fund teams to compare and monitor trends across portfolio companies.

The ESG Improvement Plan is prepared by the Sub-fund in cooperation with the management team of each portfolio company, and the progress of this plan will be monitored periodically during the whole ownership period. Monitoring activities are aimed at:

- Ensuring ongoing adherence of investments to the responsible investment strategy of the Sub-fund, and absence of relevant PAIs
- Supporting portfolio companies in achieving their ESG Improvement Plan goals
- Improving and reporting on ESG performance of the Sub-fund.

Finally, the ESG story of the portfolio company is summarized into the exit memorandum to share ESG progress and performance with potential buyers and to capitalize Sub-fund's and portfolio company's effort in the context of sustainability. The Sub-Fund is supported by ESG advisors in carrying out all the activities mentioned above.

- What are the binding elements of the investment strategy used to select the investments to attain each of the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this financial product?

Target companies must not meet any exclusion criteria.

Each portfolio companies must agree on an ESG Improvement Plan.

- What is the committed minimum rate to reduce the scope of the investments considered prior to the application of that investment strategy?

The Fund does not commit to a minimum rate to reduce the scope of investments prior to the application of the investment strategy.

- What is the policy to assess good governance practices of the investee companies?

By means of analysis conducted by third parties and questionnaire sent to target companies, the due diligence process investigates, among other factors, tax and legal compliance, the governance structure, business ethics as well as employee relation and remuneration.
